

AMERICAN FORUM NATIONAL DEBATE SERIES: Political Polarization (from the Miller Center at UVA)

The Miller Center on TV: Debuting Sunday, October 26 on PBS stations nationwide and the WORLD Channel

This episode of the Miller Center's four-part debate series, "Beyond Gridlock," explores whether our polarized political process no longer reflects the will of the American people. Debaters include MATT KIBBE, president of FreedomWorks; ERIC LIU, founder of Citizens University and former speechwriter for Bill Clinton; CHRISTOPHER PARKER, political science professor at the University of Washington; and GEORGE WILL, Pulitzer Prize-winning Fox News contributor.

The debate will air on:

- WHTJ (Charlottesville) Channel 41 Sunday, 10:30 a.m.
- WCVE (Richmond) Channel 23 Sunday, 10:30 a.m.
- WVPT (Harrisonburg) Channel 11 Sunday, 1:00 p.m.

Check your local listings; this debate will be broadcast on nearly 80 percent of all PBS stations. Starting October 24, video of this episode will also be available here.
